

Partnership Notice

Issued on: 22nd June 2025

Subject: Notice of Partnership Roles, Ownership, Intellectual Property, and Contributions of Octana

This notice is to clearly outline the nature of the partnership between the software platform (hereinafter referred to as the Platform) and the independent science club managed by Raj Prakash AS, (hereinafter referred to as the Club). This document exists for the purpose of transparency, future clarity, and reference, and does not constitute a legal agreement or binding contract.

1. Ownership and Founder-ship

The Platform has been solely developed, maintained, and operated by Rithviksaran US, who is the original founder, developer, and administrator. The Platform is fully independent and not affiliated with any external club, institution, or organisation in terms of ownership, governance, or intellectual property.

2. Intellectual Property

All source code, digital assets, database structures, branding, user interface elements, and future derivatives of the Platform remain the exclusive intellectual property of Rithviksaran US. No rights, licenses, or claims over this property are granted or implied to any external party, including the Club or any of its representatives.

3. Nature of Partnership

The Club, under the leadership of Raj Prakash AS, is collaborating as a promotional partner. Their contribution is limited to outreach, promotion, and user engagement through their existing community, events, and social platforms. This partnership does not constitute:

- Co-founder-ship.
- Co-ownership.
- Financial investment.
- Technical or managerial involvement.

The Club and its representatives do not hold any equity, authority, or administrative access to the Platform.

4. Contributions and Roles

Party	Contribution
Rithviksaran US	Design, development, maintenance, technical infrastructure, future updates.
The Club (Raj Prakash's Team)	Social media promotion, community engagement, user referral and support.

5. Authority and Decisions

All decisions regarding platform functionality, branding, partnerships, feature rollouts, or platform closure shall be made exclusively by Rithviksaran US. The right to modify, pause, or terminate this collaboration lies solely with the Platform owner and may be exercised at any time, with or without prior notice.

6. Independence and Transparency

The Platform operates as an independent initiative and does not claim or imply endorsement, accreditation, or recognition from any governmental, educational, or scientific institution through this partnership.

This notice is shared with the Club and its members via email and is also publicly accessible through the Platform's official website, in the interest of transparency.

Rithviksaran US,

Founder & Developer,

rithviksaran.ross@gmail.com

URL of Platform: octana.neocities.org